has advantages that no other Female College in Kentucky affords. It has just closed one of the most successful sessions in its history. It is the only Female School in the state that keeps a faculty composed of graduates of the University of Michigan (Ann Arbor), Columbia University (New York City), Vanderbilt University and others of the world's greatest schools with records as instructive as its curriculum.

Its department exceptionally strong in teachers from the greatest conservative. Scientific apparatus and general equipment of building first-class. President on his travels in Egypt, Palestine and Europe. Sickless almost unknown. Good table. No fussy teachers. Send for our handsome catalog.

"Winsome Winona."

When Rev. John McNeill, of Scotland, visited Winona last year and enjoyed its attractions, he gave to it a name that will long be remembered and used by those who take their vacations at this lovely spot. It was "Winsome Winona." It is a fitting name, for nowhere in all the country is there a place where such a name can better be used. Nowhere on the globe is the scene brighter, the sky bluer, the grass greener, the moonlight clearer, or the air more life-giving. It is the place for the student, the professional man, the business man, the solitary man, the scientist, the social man, the poet, and the old and the young. It is the paradise of children.

Winona is famed for its marvelous scenic splendor, its magnificent sunsets, the abundance of natural mineral waters. "Winona, the beautiful," it suggests springing fountains, running brooks, beautiful lakes and wooded landscapes. No more charming place could have been selected for such a great educational and religious gathering as is now held every summer.

It is worth a journey of many miles to see the improvements made since last year. Very wisely the management have decided not to permit art to destroy nature, and all over the grounds are little parks just as God made them, but at other places can be found flowers so arranged to delight the eyes of all. The walks have been greatly improved, and already several miles of the old board walks have been given away to permanent ones of cement. Over one hundred new cottages have been erected since last year. Many of the older buildings have been enlarged and improved, and yet the increase in the number of visitors some days taxes the entire capacity of the grounds. The attendance during the last month has averaged about one thousand more than last year. The summer school has had nearly four times as many pupils as in any previous year. The programme has been of the very best, from three to five good lectures on concerts daily. The largest crowd came to hear Miss Ellen M. Stone tell the story of her captivity. She had to deliver her address twice, and had probably five thousand in the audience each time; many more would have been glad to hear but could not gain admittance to the auditorium. There are a great many Kentuckians here and they seem to come from all parts of the State. There never was such a place for meeting old friends, and greeting new ones. One charm of the place is the liberties of dress, which add so much to comfort and pleasure and are claimed by all. Hats are discarded by the ladies, and the walking skirt and shirt waist are in evidence everywhere. The business man or minister need not wear a coat or vest, but are privileged even to discard the stiff collar. While the lectures of the last few weeks have been greatly enjoyed, all are looking forward to the Bible Conference which began Sunday, August 17th, when the real feast will be spread and the great crowds will be present.

Book Subscriptions at Reduced Rates. Cordova, Alabama, has been victimized by a young man who solicited subscriptions to leading magazines and newspapers at reduced prices, claiming that he was throwing his commission away in order to get up one thousand subscribers to win a scholarship in an Atlanta business college. A great many took people advantage of the low prices.

Mobs Guilty of Murder Deserve Punishment—Officers Too Often Parties to the Crime.

In Leesburg, Va., recently an unmasked mob formed at noon and, proceeding to the jail, took from it a negro charged with having committed a criminal assault upon a white woman. He was lynched in the sight of several thousand people. There was the usual farce of opposition on the part of those sworn to protect the negro. In answer to the charge of the Rev. E. S. Hinks, a Leesburg minister, that if there had been ten or twelve men in the town to stand for the law, the jail could not have been entered, the following plea is entered by Col. White, a Confederate veteran:

"What could a dozen or more men, do most of them without arms, in the face of one hundred well-armed, determined men? Bravery without prudence is a dangerous commodity. I will never, in the defense of a barn burner, robber, murderer—white or black, law or no law—kill any man."

The character of the crime does not alter a whit the necessity of protection to the criminal until the law has taken its full course. Men who organize and take part in mob for the overthrow of justice cease for the time being, to be citizens whose lives should be valued at the expense of the sworn duties of the officers. The situation is one in which neither loathing for the criminal nor friendship for his enemies plays a part. Men who are not willing to recognize this fact have no place as servants of the law. Two or three brave men are usually sufficient to put to flight such mobs. Mobs nine times out of ten flee the field long before a dozen of their men are killed. The chief obstacle in protecting prisoners against mobs is not too much bravery but too much cowardice on the part of the law officers—Courier Journal.

Ill Health Induces Resignation of Justice Gray—Successor Appointed.

President Roosevelt has appointed the Hon. Oliver Wendell Holmes Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, to be an Associate Justice of the United States, vice Mr. Justice Gray, resigned. The resignation of Justice Gray was due to ill health. Several months ago he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, which some time later was followed by another. He has not appeared on the bench since he was stricken the first time. His advanced age—seventy-four years—advised against his recovery. With the exception of Mr. Justice Harlan, he has served on the bench of the United States Supreme Court longer than any of his present colleagues. He was appointed an Associate Justice by President Arthur on December 19, 1881. Judge Holmes is one of the most distinguished lawyers and jurists of Massachusetts. He is a son and namesake of the late Dr. Holmes, the poet and essayist.

A Legislative Call. A committee of Nashville citizens called upon Gov. McMillin to discuss the question of calling a special session of the Tennessee Legislature to block by legislation the merger of competing railway lines. The Governor took the matter under advisement.

In Frankfort Ky., the seven year old child of Henry Bowen was knocked from a two wheel cart by a negro named Sublette who was driving a furniture wagon. The child was fatally injured and the negro is under arrest.

AFTER BOREING, And the Man from the Mountains is To be Given a Race.

A dispatch from Middlesboro, Ky., says: Politicians believe that an independent man or a Democrat has a good chance for election in the coming congressional race in this district. The dissatisfaction with Boreing makes success possible. The customary Republican majority is about 18,000, but this has been narrowed down several times to 5,000. Yerke's majority in the last gubernatorial race was over 19,000. The nearest approach to winning ever made by a Democrat was in 1896, when George Stone ran against Colonel Colson. Colson won by only 2,800. John D. White, gave Boreing a race for his life two years ago, the present Congressman winning by 5,000.

The tenth, out of which the Eleventh was formed used to send Democrats to Congress. Major Max Adams, of Winchester, an old Union soldier with Democratic views, won, and it is possible that a man like him might win now. It is likely that an independent man will be put up. Some want John D. White, a Republican independent, but others think that a new man should be selected.

New Corporations.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the County Clerk's office today for a company to be known as the Kentucky Coke Company with the principal business office in this city.

The business to be transacted by this corporation, according to the incorporation papers, is to be purchasing and leasing of real estate, mineral and timber lands and rights to sell and develop and operate the lands, mine coal, stone and other minerals, manufacture coke and dispose of it; purchase, build and lease houses, roads and tramways where essential, maintain and operate oil and gas, and salt water and operate and build railroads as authorized by section 85 of the Kentucky Statutes. The amount of capital stock will be $10,000 divided into one hundred shares of one hundred dollars per share. Articles of incorporation have also been filed for a corporation to be known as the Elkhorn Coke Company, with the office in Lexington. Its business will be the same as the Kentucky Coke Company. The stockholders are the same as in the above corporation and the amount of stock is the same. This corporation is similar to the above in almost every particular.—Lexington Leader.

Insurance Agents Discuss the Schedule of New Rates Will Advance Most Rates.

A meeting of special agents held in Louisville was called on Monday Aug. 11 to discuss the application in the territory of the Kentucky and Tennessee Board of Fire Underwriters, of the new schedule now being put into effect as rapidly as possible throughout the United States. It will be remembered by every man who has to buy insurance that a flat advance of 25 per cent, was ordered, at a New York meeting held last January, on all risks in town not rated within the last twelve months under some approved schedule. The excuse for this was that the losses had been so enormous and such a large number of companies had failed that the remaining companies found it necessary to take the step for protection.

The entire United States has been divided into six classes, not based on population, wealth or health, but on fire fighting facilities. By this the basis rate for each class is made and the individual risks are rated with it as a guide. All defects are charged, for the more there are the higher the rate.

Increase in Price of Lumber.

The special valuation committee of the Hardwood Lumberman's Association of the United States which adjourned Wednesday at Cincinnati, announced a general advance in the prices of hardwood lumber. The list embraces walnut, cherry, red and white oak, basswood, chestnut and ash. Popular lumber was increased $2 per 1,000 feet on two inch and thinner, $5 on FOS. 1 and 2 stock, thicker than two inches; $1 on saps and No. 1 common and $5 on three and four inch stuff. Another raise will be made in September, it is said.

No Pie For Them.

Former Confederate soldiers, it is reported, are deluging the Pension Office with applications for pensions under the mistaken idea that they are included in the recent disabilities act. Commissioner Ware has seen fit to state that the Government does not contemplate pensioning former Confederate soldiers.

Fixed.

The United States Shipbuilding Company has completed its operations by acquiring nine big boats, all of which have been paid for by a trust company in New York. Lewis Nixon says the company has no idea of acquiring foreign plants.

YOUNG AMERICANS.

If the people of Mt. Sterling will set up one night, (most any night will do) they can hear some of the Young Americans going out of the city away from the clam shops firing their guns, and creating confusion. We don't care for the people away from Mt. Sterling to know we permit such conduct, but we would have our own people to know of it and would have the council consider the question of more police for a while. Officers who would place themselves on the out streets and attend to the young bloods who should be checked before they pass over the line from where they could not return to respectability.

The present force has all it can attend to.

PROFANE CHURCH

MEMBERS

When a member of a church makes up his mind to use profane language he should at the same time decide that he is an unconverted man, seriously sick with sin and should yield to the overtures of mercy instead of wanting to continue in fellowship with a religious people when he himself is without religion.

Churches are laboring for a numerical strength rather than a converted membership. A great number of church members could give strength to the organizations to which they belong if they would get off the load.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

Among our announcements is that of Mr. W. O. Bach, of the county of Menefee, for the Legislature. Mr. Bach is a young man aged 27 years, a farmer and also a school teacher of the common schools. His Democracy is of the Jeffersonian type and he desires us to say that while he is up with his party he has not outgrown it and to its decisions he gratefully acquiesces even though he may be of a different opinion. He has ever been a party worker and if nominated and elected promises his time and talents to the work of a legislator.

BRIGHTER.

The Men's Club is at work planning for the furtherance of Mt. Sterling's interests.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

According to agreement the next representative of the 60th Legislative district must come from Menefee county and all that we can ask is that the very best man they have be nominated. A man qualified to fill the place intellectually and morally. He should be a temperance man by theory and practice and a working man as well. Give us of your best, we ask this and will be satisfied with nothing less.

EMPTY HONOR.

The nominating of J. G. White of Winchester, for Congress by the Republicans of the Tenth district will give the Republicans an opportunity to vote, only this and nothing more. White is a nice man as good timber as they have in the Tenth, but to think of being elected is no use. Republicans haven't a corner on anything down here.

NO STREET FAIRS.

The retiring State official of the order of Elks in his ruling against street fairs, does not affect the Elks' Agricultural Fairs, but applies only to the street fair. This is the opinion given by Mr. Harbison, an official of the Lexington order of Elks.

To My Friends.

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done me. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it. Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength, of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals.

Two Portraits.

For several years past these two appended paragraphs have been appearing in print. The first is the late Mr. Ingersoll's glorification of whiskey, and the second is a reply to it by the Methodist editor, Dr. J. M. Buckley.

THE FIRST PICTURE.

"I send you some of the most wonderful whiskey that ever drove the skeleton from the feast of painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and shadow that chased each other over billowy fields, the breath of June, the carol of the lark, the dew of the night, the wealth of summer and autumn's rich content, all golden with imprisoned light. Drink it, and you will hear the voice of men and maidens singing in the 'Harvest Home,' mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it, and you will feel within your blood the starred dawns, the dreamy, tawny dunks of perfect days. For forty years this liquid joy has been within staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man."

THE SECOND PICTURE.

"I send you some of the most wonderful whiskey that ever brought a skeleton into the closet or painted scenes of lust and bloodshed in the brain of man. It is the ghost of wheat and corn, crazed by the loss of their natural bodies. In it you will find a transient sunshine, chased by a shadow cold as arctic midnight, in which the breath of June grows icy and the carol of the lark gives place to the foreboding cry of the raven. Drink it, and you will have 'woe,' 'sorrow,' 'babbling' and 'wounds' without cause, 'your eyes shall behold strange women,' and your heart shall utter perverse things. Drink it deep, and you will hear the voices of demons shrieking, women wailing worse than orphaned children mourning the loss of their father who yet lives. Drink it deep, and serpents will hiss in your ears, coil themselves around your neck and seize you with their fangs. 'For at last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.' For forty years this liquid devil has been within staves of oak, harmless there as water. I send it to you that you may put it in your mouth and steal away your brains. 'For I call myself your friend.'"

His Sight Threatened.

"While picketing last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a meeting of the C. W. B. M. on August 10, 1902, the following tribute was adopted:

The quiet, gentle spirit of Sister Lucy Cassidy Tibbs returned to God, July 21, 1902. On the afternoon of the 23rd, beneath a blanket of fresh flowers, we laid to rest, on the hillside in Machpelah Cemetery, her fair, frail body.

Our auxiliary, of which she was a life member, as well as the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, has lost a valuable servant; a liberal supporter in all its undertakings; a strong and tender sympathizer in times of trial. Sister Tibbs was a lovely woman, a conscientious christian, a model wife and a self-sacrificing mother. One of her most noted virtues was her great love of home, where she royally welcomed her friends with loving hospitality. It was an ideal home, illuminated with her sunny nature. She possessed a willing spirit, and was always ready to do and to give for every good work.

"Say not her work of love is done; No deed of love or goodness ever dies But in the lives of others multiples; Say it is just begun."

The Bracken Association of Baptists.

The Bracken Association of Baptists, with which the Mt. Sterling Baptist church holds membership met with Two Lick Baptist church, Mason county, the first Wednesday in this month. The entertainment was given in the very best style. It was real Kentucky hospitality. Owingville church, recently organized, was received into the membership of this body, and a committee was appointed to look into the establishing of a school at Morehead. All of the Association's interests were well cared for. The present officers of this organization, W. R. Nunnally, Moderator; C. N. Bollinger, Clerk; and W. H. Fritz, Treasurer, were re-elected.

The session continued three days and one of the enjoyable features was the preaching at a stand in the woods near by, according to primitive custom. The next meeting will be with the Sharpburg Baptist church the 1st Wednesday in August, 1903.

W. R. Nunnally represented the Mt. Sterling church.

Bracken Academy.

The committee appointed by the Bracken Association of Baptists to look into the matter of establishing a school at Morehead, co-operating with the people there, met in this city on last Saturday and effected an organization by electing W. J. Mahoney, of Carlisle, President; W. W. Horner, of Sharpburg, Secretary; Dr. R. Q. Drake, of this city, Treasurer.

GLUT OF LEMONS

Causes Importer to Abandon Purchases.

The appraiser at New York has sold for the Government in the last four weeks more than 100,000 boxes of lemons, because the importers declined to pay duty on them.

The chief reason for the glut is believed to be because there has been no prolonged hot spell. Fewer lemons have been consumed and the visible supply has increased until the price has gone down to a point where it would be money thrown away to pay duty. Importers, therefore, have preferred to lose the amount they paid for the lemons and have abandoned vast quantities of the product.

Shelby County Association.

The Editor of the Advocate attended the Shelby County Association of Baptists at the Clay Village church on last Thursday. The crowds were very large. On Thursday it was estimated that there were at least two thousand persons present. The messengers and visitors were well fed and cared for and their reports were evidence of prosperity among the churches. Dr. Young, of the Methodist church, Corresponding Secretary of the Interdenominational Temperance Society was present and made one of his forceful characteristic speeches at the close of which he lifted a collection. The Baptists of Kentucky have been asked for $1,000 with which to carry on the fight against whiskey and at the present rate double that amount will be contributed.

Shelby County Association stands among the first in all the denominational interests. There was a large increase in membership and an effort will be made to increase the contributions for the various objects.

School Teacher Shot.

A Carlisle dispatch says: "Walter Cook, a teacher in the Saltwell district, Nicholas county, sent the ten-year old son of Arch Reed home for bad behavior in school. The brother and father of the boy met Cook on the road and demanded an explanation, at the same time, it is claimed, displaying weapons. Cook simply said the boy could not stay in his school. Words followed, and George Reed, brother of the boy, shot Cook twice through the left lung. Reed came to this city and gave himself up. He was lodged in jail to await developments."

IN THE EYES OF THE LAW.

A Man May Be Legally Sane Though Really Quite Otherwise.

When is one insane in the eyes of the law?

It is a curious fact that a man may be mentally unsound to a striking degree and yet be sane legally.

If a man stopped you on the street and pointed out a herd of blue elephants on a house-top and you looked up and could see no elephants of any kind, says the New York World, you would naturally consider the man insane and believe it a duty to have him put in charge of the law. Yet if that were as far as he went he would not be legally insane. He would be simply suffering from illusions.

To be insane he must have delusions.

If a man whom you knew to be a prosaic keeper of a delicatessen shop were to tell you he was John D. Rockefeller and that his brother was the owner of "something somewhere on the Bombay side," you would naturally consider him insane. If you can show that these statements of his are delusions he may be declared legally insane.

But you would have to declare in writing that the man was not John D. Rockefeller and to prove that the other things were as equally untrue. This, nevertheless, is a well-marked case of delusion and outright insanity.

But supposing the man claimed that he was nightly visited by Banquo's ghost and that he could hear trumpets throughout the day, you could not incarcerate him. In these cases he saw the ghost and heard the trumpet. There was a physical basis for his concepts. They were merely illusions.

We all of us suffer from some hallucinations. We look down a railway track and see that the two lines converge. That is a hallucination of the optical sense. The lines do not converge, but only appear to do so, owing to the tendency of our eyes to concentrate toward a given point.

The law is equally careful in deciding whether or not a criminal is prompted in an offense by insanity. To be held guiltless of a crime a man must be proved unable to distinguish between right and wrong. Thus, supposing you are in a railway carriage and the man in the opposite corner suddenly tells you you are an evil spirit trying to claim his soul, that he will not allow you to do so, and that he seizes you and strangles you—that man will be brought up for trial and sent to a lunatic asylum.

But, supposing a man you had never before seen murdered you, and when brought up for trial said, without the slightest foundation, that you had plotted against his position and property, and were always seeking to destroy him, he would not be exempt from punishment because he killed you with full knowledge that he was doing wrong. He is not exempt from punishment on the ground of insanity.

SMOKED A RUBBER CIGAR.

Victim Himself Did Not Know It, Though Everybody Else Did.

Some of the clerks in the war department played a joke on a well-known clerk in the telegraph office the other day. They got a cheap cigar, says the Washington Star, filled it with small pieces of rubber and then gave it to the telegraph man. He is always playing practical jokes on his fellows and they were merely trying to even up. He started in to work as usual and puffed vigorously on the cigar. He must have had a cold in his head, for he didn't seem to notice the foul smell that soon permeated the atmosphere. His associates could hardly stand it, however, but they didn't know about the cigar. The odor finally became overpowering, and the smell of rubber was unmistakable. As there had been some trouble with the telegraphic apparatus, the innocent victims concluded from the smell that the insulating had caught fire. An expert electrician was summoned from the Western Union office and spent some time examining the switchboard connections. It was not until after he reported that there was nothing at all the matter with them that the truth dawned upon the operators that it was merely a case of "bad cigar." It was a curious commentary on the smoker's taste that he didn't know he was not smoking tobacco until those around him informed him of the fact.

George W. Farris, of Cave City, Ky., was killed and his brother, Daniel E. Farris, probably fatally injured in a railroad wreck at Hammond, Ind., Sunday.

New York Unions Urge Miners To Defy Federal Courts

The Central Federal Union, of New York, has gone on record against the Judges who have issued injunctions against the striking miners. At a meeting, a long preamble and set of resolutions were unanimously adopted. The first paragraph of the preamble denounces the Judges mentioned, and calls them "willing and subservient tools of the coal trust."

After further scoring the Judges, the resolutions "urge the miners to insist upon, and if need be defend, their right to feed starving brothers in defiance of the mandate of the Federal courts, and that we pledge them our hearty support to the furthering of that end."

To Abandon Missouri River Work

Beaten in its efforts to control it, the United States is about to abandon the Missouri River to its fate and give it up as a means of transportation. Railroads have grabbed the freight and steamboat business has dwindled. The millions spent in an effort to make the Missouri a permanent canal for commerce have done no good. The Missouri has eaten up millions of acres along its banks. It is not at all uncommon for entire farms to be carried away in a single day.

It Needs a Tonic.

There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purgatives that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poisons from the system and act as a tonic to the liver. W. They never gripe or distress.

DEATH OF MRS. SPEED

Recalls Friendship Between Her Husband and Lincoln.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer from Louisville says: Mrs. Francis Henning Speed, the widow of Johnson F. Speed, who was one of Abraham Lincoln's closest personal friends, is dead at the age of 82 years at her home on the Cherokee road. Her early life and the life of her husband were closely connected with the life of Lincoln, as it is told in Hay and Nicolai's biography of him that Lincoln was Mr. Speed's confident throughout his courtship of Miss Henning, who afterwards became his wife, and that on the testimony of his friend to the happiness which he had found in his marriage was due Lincoln's union to Miss Mary Todd, of Lexington, Ky.

Tin Rooster Wouldn't Work

Henry Peterson, a farmer residing a short distance north of Verona, purchased from an agent a tin rooster which was guaranteed to turn red six and seven hours before each and every storm, thus giving him plenty of time to prepare for the blow. Storms came and went, but the rooster did not change color, and Peterson started an investigation in an attempt to recover the $30 check which had been given for the device. He found the check at the village bank. It had accomplished what the rooster failed to do. It had turned to $300. The swindler has not been apprehended.—La Crosse (Wis.) GOOD ROADS CONVENTION CLOSES

Meet Next at Cynthiana.

At Lexington on Tuesday morning the delegates to the Good Roads Convention assembled in front of the court house and were driven out on the Richmond, Winchester, and Tate's Creek pikes, where samples of roads constructed by the Home Construction were exhibited to show how these results are accomplished in Fayette.

Pieces of road in all processes of construction were shown; first, the old road, where no improvements had been made, then a piece in course of construction, showing the different material used and how the road beds are made; next a piece that had passed through one winter season and finally a piece that had just been completed.

Sectional views were given of road building as well as a surface inspection made.

In the afternoon the delegates from each Congressional district met and elected an executive and a legislative committee. Committees were nominated and unanimously elected from each district. Our Congressional district, the tenth will be represented by: Executive, Judge W. A. Dehaven, Montgomery county; Legislative, W. Lilly, Powell county.

The officers for next year are: President—J. W. Newman, of Versailles.

Vice President—E. E. Barton, of Falmouth.

Secretary—Denny B. Goode, of Lexington.

The next meeting will be at Cynthiana.

Expected to Displace sugar in Cuba.

New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio capitalists have purchased 350,000 acres of the most desirable land in Cuba. It has been discovered that Santiago Province, on the south of the island, is capable of producing the finest grade of sea island cotton. Four million dollars will be spent in improvements. It is believed by Cuban officials that in cotton Cuba has found a substitute for sugar, and that within a few years Cuba will be able to ship cotton to the United States and Europe of a finer grade and at a cheaper price than is now furnished by the States of the South.

Draw Lots To Determine a Verdict.

The case of Riley Lindsey, charged with robbing F. P. Owens of $45, was called in the Circuit Court at Barborville, Ky., August 12. After the jury had been out some hours it was learned that no agreement had been reached and that no verdict would be rendered. Judge Paulkner ordered the jury held over and asked them, if possible, to bring in a verdict. One was rendered but not the kind that seemed to please the Judge. Some of the members of the jury filed affidavits soon after the verdict was rendered to the effect that the liberty of the accused had been gambled away by the jury. Upon investigation it was learned that the jury was about equally divided, and that there were two men, who were leaders, one being on each side. These two men would not agree. Some of the more less interested suggested that a pint of corn be brought to the room. This was done without anyone knowing it except the jurymen. It was then agreed that the corn should be poured out on the floor and the two leaders would draw a grain at a time from the pile until it was exhausted; all were to agree to the verdict the one who drew the last grain should write. As it happened that the man so strong for conviction drew the last grain in the pile, a verdict was written for one year in the penitentiary.

As soon as this was found out by the court a motion was filed for a new trial, and it was granted and the case was continued.

Robbed of His Gold.

Last Thursday afternoon John Hunter, a wealthy farmer who lives near town, on the Four Mile road, was robbed of $5,000 in gold, which he kept in a stone jar under his bed. The robbery was committed late in the afternoon, while Hunter was away from home. Although he was away from home but a short time, the men who got the booty managed to get away and have not yet been apprehended. When Hunter found that he had been robbed he came to town and notified the sheriff. A search was begun at once and at noon, Friday, the blood hounds from Nicholasville were put on the trail. The robbers were traced across the county, up Otter Creek to the Big Hill pike, where the trail was lost. It is supposed that they escaped into the mountains. The county officers want Hunter to offer a reward for the capture of the parties, so that competent detectives may be employed, but he has refused to do it. Hunter is a peculiar character and the news of the robbery was no surprise to those who know him. He has a great deal of property and saves every dollar he gets. He never trusted his money to the banks, but keeps it all in his house. "No one knew where he kept it until the robbery. The money that was taken was in $20 gold pieces and represented his savings of years. Those who know him have always predicted that some day he would be murdered for his gold."—Richmond Climax.

FACTS and OBSERVATIONS

UP THE L. & E.

On Wednesday afternoon the writer started to Torrent. At L. & E. Junction a nice improvement is being made by the L. & E. Company in a residence and the preparation of a plot of ground presumably for a flower garden. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

We wish publicly to thank this Company for the good and blessing conferred upon all who travel their road by giving such beautiful, attractive, restful and inspiring spots as the flower garden at Clay City and the extensive landscape gardening at Natural Bridge.

We spent the night at Torrent. Music, dancing, card playing, fine eating, restful sleep and relief from hay fever are some of the inducements at this resort. Pay your money and take your choice.

Among the guests were 13 drummers, Major O. S. Tenny and wife; Mrs. B. A. Jenkins and children with her mother-in-law, of Lexington; Mr. and Moxley, of Shelby county; W. T. Lafferty and family, of Cynthiana; and many others whom we did not meet. Major Tenny is one of the young men—a moving spirit in the dance. He and our father were prominent in the card playing, (which I believe they call it), but if reports be true the latter gentleman was not expert during his visit.

We retired before nine o'clock soothed by the music for the second dance.

Through the courtesy of Lee Congleton, we on Thursday morning rode to Zachariah about 24 miles from Torrent to see A. J. Adams, the merchant and others.

See in this issue the advertisement of Jas. P. Bass who offers for sale, two coal banks and a farm.

We returned in time to take first train East. We stopped at Athol twenty miles distant. The merchants here are S. J. Crawford and Wm. Couch. We failed to get a horse here so in order to save time and see merchants before afternoon train for Torrent came back, we started to walk four miles through Tallega to Monica. Over trestle and through tunnel we clipped along until we reached a farm house one and one-fourth miles away Wm. Palmer had a spare mule. For a time the mule was mine and the Advocate his. He (the mule) was a blind bled with rope rein.

At Tallega we interviewed C. M. Crawford, the merchant and E. Strong who is opening a store across the river. We hastened on to Monica.

G. D. Hieronymus & Bro. Co. are doing a prosperous business. Carpenters are making enlargements to their store to accommodate their increasing trade.

Reports concerning corn crop in these sections of country (except in a few river bottoms) are not encouraging.

Our mule was turned over to Palmer's son and we again came to Torrent for the night. President B. A. Jenkins, of Lexington, came Thursday afternoon.

Among the expected at Torrent on Friday were Miss Anna Belle, of Shelby county; Miss Ella Scott, of Shawhan, Ky.; Mrs. McIntyre and daughter, of Cincinnati; the Jett family and ten others from Cynthiana.

NEW FIRM.

J. M. Sullivan and Lee Congleton, of Torrent, have formed a partnership. They have leased of Capt. J. M. Thomas, of Paris, for a term of five years his lumber yards etc., in Paris, and will soon be at home to the people of Bourbon through a large stock of building material. Mr. Congleton will locate in Paris desiring to give his children the advantages of fine schools. We commend these gentlemen to our readers in Bourbon.

We left on early train Friday, stopping at Filson, Bowen P. O., after dinner with the family of Wm. Bowen. We again took to the road (ties) to Cat Creek about 24 miles, where we had a pleasant chat with the merchant, Mr. Martin, and the miller, Mr. Mansfield. Corn crop in Red River bottoms is good.

All aboard for L. & E. Junction and home again.

Acknowledgment.

Editor Mt. Sterling Advocate.

DEAR SIR—The Lexington Horse Show, Fair and Carnival was an overwhelming success. This success is realized was due in a large measure to the kindly assistance of the press. Secretary Frank P. Kenny and the Elks' Fair management direct me to thank you personally for the interest you have taken in our enterprise and for what you have so generously done for us. I assure you your efforts have been appreciated. The Lexington Elks have learned that plenty of advertising pays and you may look out for more of it in the future.

To Be Cut Into Lots.

A part of the famous Ashland farm will be cut up into building lots and a suburban settlement will be formed near the former home of the great Commoner. Judge Henry C. McDowell, of West Virginia, conferred with Thomas C. McDowell and other members of the family and this move was decided upon.

Female Strike.

The female teachers of Wetzel county, W. Va., will organize a union to demand an increase in salaries. The movement may extend throughout the State and result in a teachers' strike.

Insurance Combine.

The Lexington Democrat says: "Insurance rates in Lexington have been increased from 10 to 50 per cent on business property. This increase applies only to board or trust companies, but that includes property in Lexington. There is absolutely no justification for the increase and it is simply a case where a powerless community is made to feel the power of a combination."

Dr. L. C. Armstrong, the old est practitioner in Garrard county, died at his home in Bryantsville last Saturday.

Admits The Killing.

At Terre Haute, Ind., Rev. Charles Hill, a Congregational minister of five years standing, has told that he fired the shot that killed the Widow Smith at the mining town of Benwood fifteen years ago. She was shot while at the door of a neighbor's house and boys firing at a mark were arrested, but the bullet did not fit their guns. Mr. Hill says that he was firing at a mark some distance away and it was his shot that killed Mrs. Smith.

Local option elections will be held in Butler county, Sept. 13.

Annexation, The Hope Of Cuba.

Capt. T. L. Huston, a former army officer, who now represents large American interests in Cuba, states that with the refusal of Congress to grant reciprocity, the only hope for the island is annexation. He says that the business interests are solidly in favor of it, but that the politicians are not.

"Unless Cuba is annexed to the United States within a year it never will be," said Mr. G. Castellanos, of Havana, who was in Louisville last week. The people are poor, and there is no demand for the sugar and tobacco, the principal products. The failure of Congress to adopt the reciprocity resolution was a great blow to the island. Several of the great nations of Europe have agreed to repeal their sugar bounty laws, which will give us open markets. When this is done our people will become prosperous, and all will oppose annexation. But now with hard times staring them in the face a great many Cubans favor annexation.

"The officers who have been elected will not do Cuba any good. They are ignorant, and will resort to deception to appease the people. This explains the adoption of the resolution providing that $35,000,000 be borrowed to pay the soldiers. Of course, the Platt amendment will prevent the Government from borrowing the money.

"The men who are in power were members of the army, and of the lowest classes. The educated Cubans did not join the army, and many absented themselves from the island during hostilities. The result is they have no influence, and have to yield to the will of the majority. It will take several years to bring order out of chaos and establish prosperity. But when this is done the people will be satisfied, and will oppose any effort toward annexation."

His Sight Threatened.

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for awhile we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits.

More Oil.

The Alum City Oil Company of Vanceburg has been organized with a capital stock of $200,000. The company is incorporated under the laws of South Dakota. W. C. Halbert was elected President; S. J. Pugh, Vice President; Geo. T. William, Secretary; S. E. Bruce, Treasurer; James Alexander, Field Manager. This company brought in its second oil well last week, which is said to be equally divided as good as the first one. They are now working on an another well.—Maysville Bulletin.

A Necessary Precaution.

Don't neglect a cold. It is worse than unpleasant. It is dangerous. By using One Minute Cough Cure you can cure it at once. Allays inflammation, clears the head, soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane. Cures coughs, croup, throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Children like it.

The total immigration into Canada for the fiscal year ended June 30 foots up over 70,000 persons, Americans being the largest number by nationality.

A Severe Winter Predicted.

Prof. Asa K. Martin, of Winchester, has furnished the Lexington Leader with the following forecast: "The first frost of the season will fall September 17th. There will be twenty-three snows for this winter, the first to fall October 27 or November 5. There will also be five zero days and two ice spells. "To sum it all up we will have a cold wet winter and my advice to my friends is to get their coal now as it will be very high as the winter draws near.

We will get ice from three to five inches thick.

To My Friends.

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol I did so, and words can not tell the good it has done me. A neighbor had dyspepsia so that he had tried most everything. I told him to use Kodol. Words of gratitude have come to me from him because I recommended it. Geo. W. Fry, Viola, Iowa. Health and strength, of mind and body, depend on the stomach, and normal activity of the digestive organs. Kodol, the great reconstructive tonic, cures all stomach and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia. Kodol digests any good food you eat. Take a dose after meals.

Visited New York.

Prince Chen, the Chinese special envoy to Prince Edward's coronation, visited the officials of New York and afterward drove through Chinatown. There was no cheering, but the streets were strung with fireworks and colored lanterns.

He left yesterday for China. He reports himself highly pleased with his visit to this country and contemplates another trip during the St. Louis Exposition.

THE SCRIBBLER

Wise and Otherwise—Mostly Otherwise.

"A Savannah man who had swallowed a corkscrew was ordered by the court to quit town. He will probably take up his residence in Kentucky."—Richmond Times.

The kickers on the farm are not as hard to get along with as the kickers in the town, says an exchange. On the farm there are the kicking cow and our long-eared friend, the mule, while in town there is the old mossback, who is opposed to letting his business be known through the local press and who wants all the privileges of municipal living without paying for them, and blocks, so far as he can, every municipal improvement. The cow may be sold for beef and the mule traded for a shot-gun, but nothing but a funeral will get rid of a town knocker.

SINGULARLY TRUE.

People kiss their dead who never stop to kiss their living. They hover over open caskets with hysterical sobs but fail to throw the wealth of affection about those loved ones who are fighting the stern battle of life. How unheeding we permit the opportunities for carrying sunshine into the lives of those we love to pass by. A word of cheer to a struggling soul in life is worth more than all the roses in christendom piled high on casket covers. The dead can not smell the fragrance of the flowers, but the living can. Scatter them broadcast in their pathway, therefore, and pluck out the thorns. A welcome smile, a cherry "well done," an affectionate look, will cause a rift to break in the lowering clouds and permit the sunshine of life to gladden the passing days of those we love.—Ex.

A French doctor has concocted an albumin liquid which is efficacious against the staphylococcus microbe—in other words, quickly alleviates the pain and removes the cause of boils, carbuncles and like eruptions. Carry the news—and the serum—to the inheritors of that Job lot of afflictions.

Snow on Pike's Peak, corn-damaging frost in Iowa, post-midnight need of blankets in old Kentucky in the very hey-day of Dog Days! And still there's nothing the matter with the weather. Corn, cotton and man are multiplying and replenishing the earth in most gratifying fullness and fashion.

The following advertisement appeared in the Fordsville Independent: "— & — carry the most complete line of general merchandise in Ohio county. This week we especially call your attention to our coffins, caskets and shrouds. Our line is up to date, prices reasonable. We can furnish you a child's coffin, nicely trimmed, as low as $4.50. We are putting out a beautiful broadcloth casket, with extra fine trimming, at $35, that usually sells for $65. This is the swellest thing ever shown in this part of the country. Our $25 coffin is a prize. The thumb screws and escutcheons used in this job are the kind generally in $50 jobs. Remember we have one of the prettiest hearsees in these parts, which will go anywhere night or day. Now is the time for the people of Fordsville to die if they want bargains."

WRONGLY PUT.

Young Man's Form of Proposal Should Have Been Different.

"Will you be mine?" "It was a young man who spoke, and the young woman, understanding, bent her shapely head and, blushing, answered, "Yes."

Oh, love! Oh, rapture! Fifteen minutes after the above emotional conversation had taken place the storm abated to some extent, and she directed her joyful eyes to him as if in question.

Quick is the apprehension of love, and he was all anxiety in a moment. "What is it, darling?" he asked, holding her to him as if fearful lest she should escape.

"Haven't I $5,000 in my own right?" she murmured. His grasp tightened on her as if it were twice as much.

"So I have heard, dear," he responded, trying to be utterly indifferent.

"And you haven't anything?" "Nothing, darling." And once more he tightened his hold on the future comforter of his life.

For a long time she remained silent as if in deep thought.

"Don't you think, John," she said, at last, "that that question you asked me a minute ago was just a bit out of order?"

"What question, dearest? I don't understand," he said, greatly perplexed. "Do you mean when I asked you to be mine?"

"Yes, John."

"What was wrong with it, darling? I meant it all, and more."

"Yes, John, I know," she said, weighing her words carefully, "but it occurs to me that as you are not putting up the money, and I am, you might change it a little and you be mine, instead of the way you had it."

All the worry and anxiety fled from his face and soul on the spot.

"Have it exactly as you please, darling," he said, with a radiant smile. "There isn't any more mine or yours in the matter. It's all ours. See?"

And they will no doubt "live happy ever after." At least, we may all hope so.—London Tit-Bits.

THE WINE TASTER.

Never Swallows Any of the Liquor He Puts in His Mouth.

It has long been a mystery to the average mortal who is upset by a few glasses of liquor how the professional wine taster keeps sober, although he sometimes samples a score of different liquors in an hour or two. The secret is that the taster never swallows the wine he puts into his mouth, but holds it there for a time while he lightly breathes through his nose. His palate tells him whether the wine is rough or smooth, but his sense of smell detects its aroma and is largely dependent on to determine its quality. The smell of the liquor ascends to the brain, and its effect upon that organ determines its intoxicating properties and its commercial value. The effect of the fumes upon the wine taster, however, is only momentary, and within a few minutes after he has sampled one variety he is ready to try another. He would find it impossible to do this if the wine was permitted to enter his stomach, for the fumes generated in that organ would rise to the brain for hours together, and if he "mixed his drinks," as he is compelled to do in his business, he would find it impossible to distinguish the flavors of the several varieties he might have sampled.—Chicago Chronicle.

THE WATCHMAN'S ALARM.

Ingenious Device of Philadelphia Who Sleeps Between the Rounds.

Anyone would readily believe that a Philadelphia watchman would be likely to go to sleep on duty, but few will be prepared for the ingenuity recently displayed by a drowsy guardian in the city of brotherly love. He is employed in a large mill at night and is required to make a certain number of rounds while on watch. Between times it is, of course, natural for him to go to sleep, but in order to avoid missing his rounds he fixed up a plan worthy of a Chicago man. He laid across a wide plank across a trestle, and on one end sets a pail filled with water. A very small hole has been punctured in the bottom of the pail, which enables the water to run out slowly. As soon as he finishes his round he lies down on the other end of the plank and is soon snoring. When the water has trickled out of the pail for twenty minutes his weight counterbalances that of the pail and he falls to the ground, wide-awake, and in time to start on his rounds again.—Chicago Chronicle.
